Macroeconomics

General Overview	Spain sustained its outperformance in H1 2026, with GDP expanding 0.6% in Q1 and 0.7% in Q2 (+2.7% vs. H1 2025). Domestic demand represents the main driver of GDP growth (+3.3% in Q2 2026), offset by a -0.6% drag from the external sector.
Inflation	Spain's inflation rate reached 3.2% in H1 2026, while core inflation stood at 2.9%, against 2.9% and 2.6% respectively at year-end 2025, driven by housing and energy. CPI is expected to rise over the coming months, reaching approximately 3.6% by end of the year.
Interest Rates	The European Central Bank (ECB) ended its easing cycle, raising the deposit rate by 25bps to 2.25% effective by June 2026. By the end of H1 2026, 12-month Euribor stood at 2.80%, against 2.27% in December 2025. Market estimates an upward trend in the second half of the year, reaching c.2.9% at year-end.
GDP	GDP growth forecasts for Spain remain unchanged at 2.1% for 2026 and 1.7% for 2027, according to the Bank of Spain Despite disruptions to energy supplies caused by the closure of the Strait of Hormuz and the conflict in the Middle East, the Spanish economy continued to grow strongly in 2026, driven by domestic demand which remains resilient despite the negative contribution from the external sector.
Others	Spain welcomed 46.6 million international tourists in H1 2026 (+4.6% vs. H1 2025), with a total expenditure of €63.8 billion (+7.0%), led by the UK (17.0% of total spending), and followed by Germany (11.7%). Strong migration flows and resilience underscore the strength of the Spanish labour market. Unemployment fell to 9.9% in Q2 2026 (below 10% for the first time since 2008), with the number of unemployed standing at 2.5 million. Meanwhile, Social Security affiliation reached 22.47 million (+2.8% vs. H1 2025).

Spanish Real Estate Sector

Investment Volume	Total investment in the Spanish real estate market reached c. €12.2 billion in H1 2026, +82% vs. H1 2025, the highest half-year on record. The asset classes that attracted most investor interest were: - Living (including PBSA): 37% of volume. - Hospitality: 20% of volume. The ECB's June increase ended the easing cycle: leverage remains accretive, but the spread over prime net yields is narrowing.
Transaction Highlights	Top-4 largest transactions accounted for c. €2.5 billion (c. 20% of total): (i) €1,050 million Fidere portfolio sold by Blackstone to Brookfield; (ii) the Iante REIT majority stake acquired by HOOPP for c. €700 million; (iii) €385 million Estel Building sold by Bain Capital and Freo Group to InmoCaixa; and (iv) c. €350 million Barcelona PRS portfolio sold by Patrizia to Azora.

Spanish Real Estate Market: Record Half-Year

Overview

- In H1 2026, real estate wholesale investments in Spain reached c. €12.2 billion (+82.1% vs. H1 2025), the strongest half-year on record and already c. 66% of the €18.4 billion transacted in 2025. Living and Hospitality accounted for c. 57% of the total.
- Large 'tickets' returned: 27 transactions exceeded €100 million (vs. 15 in H1 2025) and seven exceeded €300 million, against five in the whole of 2025.
- The monetary cycle turned: the ECB raised the deposit rate to 2.25% in June 2026 and the 12-month Euribor moved to 2.80%, from 2.27% in December 2025. Financing remains supportive, but the positive-leverage window is now narrowing.
- Madrid remained the preferred destination, concentrating most of the investment in living and office. Barcelona, nevertheless, hosted the largest single office transaction in its history. The Balearic and Canary Islands maintained their position as Spain's preferred hospitality investment destination, with c. €1.1 billion invested during H1 2026 (45.8% of total hospitality investment).

Investment Highlights

- Living & PBSA reached c. 37% of total investment, the dominant asset class. Multifamily, BTR and PRS accounted for €3.3 billion, PBSA €780 million, Flex living €400 million and Senior Living €50 million.
- Hospitality recorded c. €2.4 billion (+26.5% YoY growth), an all-time record for a first half, with c. 90 assets and 12,600 rooms transacted.
- Offices investment volume rose to c. €1.6 billion (+33% vs. H1 2025), back to pre-pandemic levels. Strong demand and limited supply in more central locations are driving tenants and investors towards decentralised submarkets.
- Retail recorded over c. €1.6 billion (+14.3% vs. H1 2025), led by shopping centres with more than €800 million, while retail parks already exceeded full-year 2025 figures.
- Logistics and Industrial recorded c. €790 million (+37.3% YoY), underpinned by the strongest occupancy figures on record.

Living: Highly Demanded Asset Class

Overview

- H1 2026 Living investments totalled €3.8 billion[1], the market's dominant asset class. Multifamily, BTR and PRS accounted for €3.3 billion (87%), Flex Living for €400 million (11%) and Senior living for €50 million (1%).
- Madrid remains Spain's leading destination for residential investment, ahead of Barcelona and Valencia, supported by strong demand fundamentals, structural supply constraints and market liquidity.
- Prime multifamily net yields stood at 3.80% in Madrid and 4.00% in Barcelona, broadly stable. The widening supply-demand gap is expected to result in a shortfall of c. 880,000 homes by 2027. Driven by short supply, residential average rent reached a record €15.3/sq.m./month (+4.2% vs. H1 2025), with Madrid at €23.7/sq.m./month (+7.6%) and Barcelona at €23.0/sq.m./month (-3.9%), decrease mainly caused by the stressed-zone regulation on new lease agreements.
- Regulation now drives capital allocation. Permanent rental supply fell 11% in Barcelona and 42% in San Sebastián, while rising 4% in Madrid and 13% in Málaga.

Logistics: Record Occupier Market

Overview

- Logistics continues to capture strong investor interest. In H1 2026, investment volume reached c. €790 million (+37.3% vs. H1 2025). Despite its sensitivity to macroeconomic conditions, the sector is proving to be remarkably resilient. Interest is shifting towards net-zero assets, while sectors such as cold-chain logistics, light industry and Industrial Outdoor Storage (IOS) continue to gain prominence.
- National take-up exceeded 1,000,000 sq.m., highlighting sector's strong appeal to investors. Despite the current macroeconomic uncertainty, its potential synergies with adjacent sectors continue to underpin investor appetite. Madrid reached 600,000 sq.m. (+55.8% vs. H1 2025) being the best first half on record, while Barcelona reached c. 450,000 sq.m. (+50% vs. H1 2025).
- Prime rents in Madrid increased to €7.3/sq.m./month (+7.3% vs. H1 2025), while in Barcelona reached €9.25/sq.m./month (+4.5% vs. H1 2025). Vacancy rates in H1 2026 stood below 8.5% in Madrid, at 3.5% in Barcelona, and 3.9% in Valencia, reflecting structural undersupply.
- Prime net yields stood at 4.9% in Madrid and 4.8% in Barcelona at H1 2026. Demand continues to be underpinned by nearshoring trends and Spain's strategic position along the Mediterranean corridor.

PBSA: Record Flows & Still Structural Deficit

Overview

- Investment reached €780 million in H1 2026 (+39% vs. H1 2025) and a record for a first half. Spain is now the second largest PBSA market in Europe, c. 12% of five-year European volume.
- A single transaction, Nuveen's €330 million acquisition of the Bravo! Students platform (1,800 operational beds plus 1,500 in development) represented over 40% of H1 volume (42.3%).
- Student demand amounts to c. 650,000, while operational stock stood at 120,000 beds by the end of 2025 (+62% over ten years), evidencing a structural deficit of more than 530,000 beds. Spain remains one of the leading international destinations for students, both national and international.
- The pipeline of 5,500 beds in 2026 and 10,500 in 2027-28 remains far short of demand. Prime net yields in Madrid and Barcelona remain stable at c. 4.5% over H1 2026, positioning both markets in line with Berlin and Munich (4.6%) and London (4.4%), and ahead of Milan (5.15%), main international students' destinations in Europe.

H2 2026 Outlook, Drivers & Key Takeaways

Market Drivers

- GDP Growth: The Bank of Spain expected an expansion of 2.3% in 2026. The IMF estimates a 2.1% for Spain versus a 0.9% for the Eurozone, reflecting a strong performance of the Spanish economy in recent years and consolidating its position as a leading economy in Europe.
- CRE Investment: with €12.2 billion transacted by June (+82% vs. H1 2025), full-year figure is expected to exceed €20 billion, setting a new record for the Spanish market.
- Structural scarcity in Living sector: persistent undersupply continues to deepen the imbalance, with a deficit of c. 880,000 homes by 2027 and above 530,000 beds in PBSA.
- Tourism: 46.6 million arrivals in H1 (+4.6% vs. H1 2025), highlighting continued resilience, despite an increasing international uncertainty marked by Middle East conflict and its potential economic and geopolitical implications.

Main Key Risks

- Monetary cycle has shifted: the ECB's increase to 2.25% in June 2026 ended the easing cycle and Euribor moved from 2.27% to 2.8%, compressing the spread over prime yields.
- Inflation re-acceleration: 3.2% headline and 2.9% core in June 2026. Further tightening would pressure prime yields in H2 2026.
- Regulatory fragmentation: the 'Ley de Vivienda' is redirecting capital rather than expanding it, creating a persistent shortage of housing supply.
- Geopolitical landscape. Disruptions to energy supplies caused by the closure of the Strait of Hormuz and the conflict in the Middle East could trigger market disruptions and adjustments, impacting the sector's performance.

Other Opportunities

- Regulatory arbitrage in Living sector: Madrid, Malaga, Valencia and Seville are absorbing capital displaced from Barcelona and the Catalan region stressed markets.
- Asset conversion: office-to-residential and hotel conversion in prime urban locations.
- Demographic growth: Strong migration flows are becoming a key structural driver, with Living and Hospitality sectors benefiting the most.

Other Comments

- Record Half-Year: Spain delivered €12.2 billion of CRE investment in H1 2026 (+82% y-o-y), the strongest half-year on record, and with 27 transactions above €100 million against 15 in H1 2025.
- Financing Shift: eight consecutive ECB cuts were followed by a first increase in June 2026 to 2.25%. The near-term outlook points to further monetary tightening across major economies, calling for caution regarding the sustainability of the sector's strong performance in H1 2026.
